

Deregulating broadband service is not a good idea.
Local isps in partnership with large phone companies provide service and prices to benefit customers that would be jeopardized by unwise deregulation. Susan Curry